The first preliminary aquatic gun of the season will be exploded next Thursday afternoon, when the Potomac Boat Club will hold its first club regatta of the year. These regattas, as managed by the Potomac club. usually take on the appearance of small open affairs, from the fact that they generlly invite other organizations to compete. This year it is understood the Old Dominion of Alexandria are anxious to make their appearance in four-oared shells against either the Potomacs or Analostans in a friendly race over a short course. The Potomacs have not a good four-oared shell in their stock of boats, and hence are out of the question, and it looks as if the time is too short to make a request of the Analostans to send in a crew. The matter is in the hands of Capt. Mueller and Lieut. Gordon, and they will settle the affair today and act in the matter. The regatta Thurs-day will consist of all conceivable races eights, fours, doubles, singles and canoesthe principal race, of course, being in the eights. The leading race will be between the new junior eights, which will probably be entered at Philadelphia, and a picked one from the seniors of the club. ### COLLEGE ATHLETICS

With the intercollegiate championship | and the certainty of an intersectional meetsettled in track athletics, lacrosse, cricket and other minor sports, university men throughout the east are beginning to turn the championship of the United States. Although the eastern men still contend that the point winners of the Franklin Feld their attention to the two intercollegiate regattas. The contestants in the first regatta, which will be held at Poughkeepsie gatta, which will be held at Poughkeepsie Taking the records made in the meets of on June 28, will be Cornell, University of may 27 and June 3 as a basis it is seen that the east made better performances in eight of the thirteen events, while the west sloan has, perhaps, made more money than

It is not too much to say that the greatest interest will be taken in the Pough-keepsie races, because of the larger number of contestants and the certainty that the race will be a desperate one and a fight all the way. At the Yale-Harvard regatta the Elis have won so often and with such ridiculous ease that interest in this race is always at a low ebb.

won three years in succession, following Penn's three straight victories. This year Cornell, especially, is very anxious to turn the tables on the Salt City oarsmen, and judging from the strength the Ithacan's have exhibited this year they are quite likely to succeed. The Cornell 'varsity eight had a thorough try out against Harvard on May 27 and in a race over a course. vard on May 27, and in a race over a course mile and seven-eighths in length the Ithacans won by six and one-half lengths. as an indication of Cornell's great strength. On the same day the Cornell second eight record for the "American Henley" course set in 1903 by the famous Argonaut eight of Foronto. As several members of this eight that the Ithacans will be strong all around.

The Syracuse crew has not been tried out this spring against any of the other eights because it contains nearly every member of the famous 1904 crew. Three of the other race that the middles were able to win from Columbia, which would suggest that Columbia has a faster crew than any, either Penn or Georgetown. Nothing is known of the Wisconsin eight. The latter is the only western university which de-votes any attention to rowing, and in consequence Wisconsin never has an oppor-tunity to test its strength until the big race at Poughkeepsie.
The drawings for positions at the Poughkeepsie races has already taken place, so that all of the crews know in advance just what their course must be. Among rowing experts course No. 3 is the favorite. If the water is rough it is not affected, while the outside course, No. 6, is beset with breakers. On the other hand if the water is smooth course No. 1 enjoys but little of the outflow of the tide. Course No. 3 is the mean of these two extremes. If the races were rowed farther out in the stream all of the contestants would row on even terms. Efforts have been made from time to time to get the stewards to do this, but they have declined because of the objecnaces at Poughkee nearest the shore;

'Varsity eights-1, Columbia; 2, Syracuse; 3, Wisconsin; 4, Georgetown; 5, Pennsylvania; 6, Cornell, 'Varsity fours-1, Syracuse: 2. Columbia; Cornell; 4. Pennsylvania; 5. Wisconsin. Freshman eights—1. Pennsylvania; 2. Syr-

cuse; 3, Columbia; 4, Cornell.

Every week adds to the confusion of those who are trying to pick the intercollegiate champion base ball team. Last year this was a comparatively easy task, for Princeton undoubtedly was the champion of the year, beating Harvard. Yale and Pennsylvania. This spring the big colleges have had harder trouble to maintain their supremacy than ever before. Not a member of the "Big Six" has escaped defeat at the hands of the minor colleges and academies. Pennsylvania has been beaten by mies. Pennsylvania has been beaten by Exeter and a host of the small college teams, Harvard has lost to Amherst and Dartmouth, Yale has been beaten by Ford-ham and Manhattan, Cornell has fallen before Lafayette, Princeton has lost to Andover Academy and Pennsylvania State College, while Columbia has shared no better fate. All of these defeats are argu-

It is not too much to say that the great ridiculous ease that interest in this race is always at a low ebb.

Experts who have seen Cornell and Syracuse row this year predict that new figures will be established for the Poughkeepsie course. Previous to last year Cornell had won three years in succession, following 120-yard dash 10% sec 10 sec. 220-yard dash 22% sec 22 sec. 440-yard dash 49% sec 50 sec. 880-yard run. 1.56 1.57% Mile run. 4.25% 4.25 2-mile run 5.50% 9.50% 9.50% 9.50% 9.50% 9.50% 9.50% 9.50%

But what is of greater interest to western men is the fact that, counting only And as Harvard is said to have a better crew this year than formerly this is taken any track team in the cost including better any track team in the east, including both Cornell and Yale. Based on their records defeated Yale and Pennsylvania, at Phila-delphia, and at the same time lowered the Cornell, the champion team of the east in Cornell, the champion team of the east, in eight out of the thirteen events. By exactly the same score Chicago would have will row in Cornell's freshman eight-oared and 'varsity four-oared shells, it is evident Chicago could have won the 100 220 and Chicago could have won the 100, 220 and 440-yard runs, the half mile and mile, the high hurdles, the broad jump and hammer throw. Against Yale the Chicagoans could have won the 100 and 220-yards dashes, the mile, the 120 and 220 yards hurdles, the with which it will row at Poughkeepsie. It may be taken for granted, however, that it will be an exceptionally fast aggregation, broad jump and the hammer throw. In a

There is now nothing standing in the way of an intersectional meet between the eights-Pennsylvania, Georgetown and Co- east and west for 1906. It has already relumbia—have been tried out against the United States naval cadets at Annapolis. In the ceived the sanction of the executive committee of the I. C. A. A. A. A., and has United States naval cadets at Ahnapolis. In each instance the midshipmen were victorious. They beat Georgetown first by a length and a quarter, and later they defeated Pennsylvania by a length and three-feated Pennsylvania by a length and t day in June. It is probable that there will be one or two meetings some time this fall or winter for the purpose of complet-ing the details for the meet.

It will alternate between the east and the west. It will probably be held in Chicago the first year and Philadelphia the second. Chicago will likely be selected in the west ecause it is more centrally located. In the east the University of Pennsylvania is the only place where proper facilities could be obtained for a meeting of such great proportions.

Yale men have found their efforts not want for friends. fruitless to retain the veteran trainer. "Mike" Murphy, and are now casting about for a suitable successor. This incident illustrates better than anything else the great scarcity of competent trainers in tions raised by the railroads which operate Michigan. But it is doubtful if either of very badly bent financially. Both the meetthe observation trains along the bank. The following are the drawings for the three races at Poughkeepsie, course No. 1 being the bank and Gravesend have been trying on form followers. sacrifice. After Murphy left Pennsylvania in 1900, the Quakers tried to get first Sweeney and then Fitzpatrick. They could not get Sweeney, for he was already receiving salary of at least $5,000 a year as physical director at Hill School. They encountered imilar conditions at Michigan, where they asked for the services of Fitzpatrick. Here it was found that Fitzpatrick was receiving a salary of $3,000, which was paid him by the state of Michigan. When Pennsylvania raised this offer the University Athletic As-sociation got busy and added $1,000 to what Fitzpatrick received from the state. Thus Michigan, by a slight increase of Fitzpatrick's salary, was able to outbid Pennsylvania. The chances are that Yale will be ompelled to take a trainer from one of the preparatory schools, probably Mike Donovan of Worcester Academy.

Three University of Pennsylvania athletes are the first to feel the effects of the new ruling of the Amateur Athletic Union requiring that all Americans who compete abroad must first secure the sanction of the A. To the club house for the regatta and dance cards must be obtained from the members. The Aqueduct bridge will be the best place to view the races, as all pass right under the spans of the structure.

The Analostan boys were affoat in good number, and Capt. Robinson is busy at work getting the new men out every day, preparing them for what promises to be the best season in the history of the organization. The members are thoroughly aroused, and Capt. Robinson is receiving lots of encouragement from both officers and members, and his way at present is very pleas-

The Old Dominions down at Alexandria are hustling things this year, and they are anxious to get in some of the local regattas to show off to some advantage. They would like to meet one of the local crews in the Potomac regatta next Thursday, and have so informed Capt. Mueller of the Potomac club. The Old Dominion will also give a club regatta at an early day, at which they will expect both the Analostans and Potomacs to enter crews.

The question of holding the middle states regatta has not yet been decided, as, owing to sickness on the part of one of the committee having the matter in charge, it was postponed. It is now given out that the A meeting will be held next Saturday night at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York. The opinion is daily forcing itself on the rowing world that Washington is the most suitable and available spot in America for the regatta, and that the opposition to com-ing here is fast melting away. Indeed, there is a strong feeling at work throughout the aquatic world that Washington is the one spot where all the big regattas should be held, and the clubs of this city are living in hope that some day this feeling will ma-terialize and become a certainty. The com-mittee in charge of the middle states re-gatta consists of Commodore James Pil-kington of the Harlem River Association; and it promises to be the largest ever held under the auspices of the association. The Ariels and Arundel clubs of Baltimore are going ahead like so many beavers, both going ahead like so many beavers, both' having purchased new eight-oared shells, and the coaches of the two clubs, Messrs. Vail and Russell, are working night and day with the aspirants for honors.

The Georgetown 'varsity is pursuing the even tenor of its way, and under the skillful guidance of Coach Dempsey are saying little, but working zealously. The crew is certainly the best one, as far as form goes, that Dempsey has yet brought out from the ranks of the blue and gray, and if the men continue to improve in the remaining days continue to improve in the remaining days of grace as they have in the past ten they win make Syracuse and the rest of them hustle to get the lead on them at Pough-keepsie on the 28th of this month. ## THE BANG-TAILS

According to a persistent rumor that has been going the rounds at Gravesend the past day or two, an effort will be made in the near future by friends of Tod Sloan, the jockey, to have the stewards of the any rider that ever got astride a race horse in this country, he is today broke and more than anxious to secure employment at riding. He is said to have made personal appeals to several members of the jockey club to intercede in his behalf, contending that there is no good and valid reason why the powers should further recognize a ruling made by the English stewards. The only ban under which Sloan rests is in the nature of a notification he received some years ago from the English stewards, telling him that it would be useless for him to apply for a renewal of his license to ride in England. In keeping with the usual autocratic stand of the English racing soons, no reason has ever been stated for Sloan's banishment, but the Metropolitan powers have always recognized the ruling. It is also said that several of the racing stewards have expressed themselves in favor of Sloan's application for a license. There are many influential turfmen who would like to see Sloan riding again, for there are none too many good riders in the lightweight division at present. There is no official record of Sloan's ever having been haled before the racing authorities of any country charged with crookedness, and there are many persons who believe that he has been very severely punished, as

Edna Jackson, the fleet little filly by Watercress-Arnette, which Senator McCarren recently leased for the present season from Newton Bennington, will carry the senator's popular "brown, red sash and cap" in the running of the Astoria stakes at Gravesend tomorrow, and the friends of the well-known Brooklyn political leader are confident that she will be returned the winner. Senator McCarren, by the way has returned to the racing game in a modest sort of a way, having in his new stable besides Edna Jackson, Voorhees, the shifty son of Solitaire II-Carnation II, whose running qualities he has also leased from Mr. Bennington, and the fast filly St. Estephe, which he secured from Mr. Belmont. All are useful two-year-olds and the senator's colors should be carried to victory many times before the close of the sea

Hildebrand will be seen in the saddle again Thursday, the suspension imposed on him early in the Gravesend meeting for his weak ride on Duena expiring with the Brooklyn meeting. W. Davis seven, Martin six, Lyne five, W. Knapp and Odom four each. Baird, who began riding only two or three days ago under the decision of the Albany court dissolving the injunc-tion, has loomed up with three wins and three seconds. Diggins, Shaw and L. Smith also have three wins each to their credit,

Five car loads of horses, yearlings belonging to J. E. Madden, left Lexington for New York Friday evening and are due at Sheepshead Bay tomorrow morning. Blanks Defeated by the Cowboys. The pennant aspirations of the Blanks were rudely shattered yesterday afternoon when they were easily defeated by the Cowboys by the score of 10 to 6. At no time in the game did the Blanks have a chance, as Kappler held them safe all the way, but in the last two innings, after the Cowboys had obtained a commanding lead, he let down and they scored three runs The Cowboys batted Singleton hard, getting eleven hits, five of them being two chamberlain and Arends had on their batting clothes, as both got four hits apiece, one of the latter's being good for four bases. Laframbols put up a good game at second for the Cowboys, accepting eight chances, and also made a two-bagge

This is the second game in succession Kappler has won, as he pitched against the Pressmen Friday and won his game.

The Blanks scored two in the first on Haven's single and a home run by Arends. The Cowboys evened up matters in their half on an error by Havens, a two-bagger by Laframbois and Chamberlain's single. In the second the Blanks got one on Gaffney's single, a base on balls to Dailey and Singleton's hit. Four hits and two errors scored six for the Cowboys in the fourth, and in the fifth a base on balls and two doubles brought their total up to ten. The Blanks got two in the sixth on two errors and two hits, and in the seventh a base or balls and two singles made them one more.

TIE AFTER TEN INNINGS.

Drawn Game Between Aquinas A. C. and the Law Reporters. The Aquinas Athletic Club and the Law

Reporter Printing Company played a ten-inning tie game at 13th and D streets northeast yesterday afternoon. The game kept the large crowd present at a high pitch of excitement throughout, owing to the many sensational catches made by both teams, when a hit would have meant victory. Both pitchers were rather poorly support ed during the first few innings, but after the third the game was marked by clean fielding. "Jimmie" Kerr went into the box at the beginning of the second inning, and his work was of the major league caliber. His "snagging" of two line drives with his bare hand, retiring the batters, brought forth rounds of applause from the specta-

The Aquinas Club will play the Columbia Athletic Club at the Coliseum tomorrow, and on Tuesday will again cross bats with the Law Reporters. Score: AQUINAS.

War Department Loses the Lead. The War Department team was pulled down from its high perch of leadership in the league race yesterday afternoon by the Post Office team, the score being 8 to 1. The Post Office boys showed wonderful improvement over their playing in the past and had everything their own way from the start. The War team was unable to solve Haring's curves, getting but four hits. Donaldson was sent into the box to try to down the "mail men," but after having allowed six hits and giving wo bases on balls, which resulted in five uns, Capt. Finnegan took him out and he then went into the box. Post Office could get but two hits and two bases on balls off him, which resulted in three runs. Haring, although he fanned out four batters, kept the four hits against him well scattered. He gave three bases on balls and hit two batters. Bacon, for the winners, carried off the honors with the stick, getting two hits, one a home-run drive to deep right and the other a single to center. Fenwick secured two hits for War, but they were both of the scratch kind.

In the fielding line Haring easily led, as he accepted eight chances. Bacon, in center, covered a good deal of ground. For the losers Fenwick made a fine catch after a hard run.

Both teams pulled off two double plays. Bacon assisting in one on a fine throw to home plate from center. home plate from center.

Post Office went first to the bat. Stevenson, the first man up, was passed on balls, but was doubled on Landick's fly to Donaldson. Bradley was out, Finnegan to Corrigan. War opened the inning the same as Post Office with a base on balls, and was then doubled on Asquitt's short fly to Haring. Finnegan singled, but died, as Ellison was out, Haring to Landlek. Bacon opened the second with a home-run drive to deep right. The next three men were easy outs. War could do nothing in its turn.

Two hits, one of which was a two-bagger, netted the winners another run in the third. War secured its only run in this inning. Donaldson singled, Shaw was hit, Asquith secured his base on Birckman's error, Finnegan filed to Bacon and Donaldson scored. Ellison hit a high one to Bacon, who threw home and caught Shaw at the plate, completing the double.

Post Office got three hits, which, with a base on balls, an error and a stolen base, gave them three more runs in the fourth. A run was scored by Bradley in the fifth by a steal home. The last score came in the sixth from a hit, two stolen bases and cagos had to go the limit to win out. Mr. Wolfe will try to break the run of defeats tomorrow afternoon, and it is to be hoped that the boys will take a brace. The New Yorks won yesterday, and the Nationals are in dangerous the seventh hole.

Joe Cassidy continued his batting yesterday, and he is now placing his new stick in a vault over night for fear of losing it. Jack Townsend tried to duck two hard drives in the ninth inning, but unintentionally butted into assists, and helped to kill off safe drives. The White Sox have a winning look just at present, and the Nationals will be doing wel lto capture one game of the four, unless Capt. Stahl gets back in the sport at once. Big Frank Huelsman has finally won the crowd by his hard hitting the past few days, and when he went to the bat yesterdays, and when he went to the bat yester-day the bleachers gave him the glad hand. Frank responded with a triple into right that rolled to the fence, as Callahan over-ran it trying to make the catch. "Ducky" Holmes was given a hearty greeting by his many friends in this city, and the ex-Washington player went the route in his usual swift style. With two out it looked like brainy base ball to allow Callahan to steal second and depend upon retiring Davis. Fielder Jones is exceptionally fast on his feet, and the throw down and back must be made with-out a flaw to head him off at the plate. Kittredge is laid up for repairs with a smashed finger from one of Patten's twist-ers in Friday's game. Heyden had his hands full yesterday in stopping the splt ball sent in by Townsend ball sent in by Townsend.

Pitcher Smith was so slow in his delivery that the crowd got after him, and counted as high as fifteen after he had gotten into position to throw the ball. He is also using the spit ball with effect.

Rothgebe will probably go into right field tomorrow afternoon, as Knoll is needed behind the bat. Heyden is beginning to show signs of distress from continuous work. Little Knoll is something of a catcher, and will make himself still more. a catcher, and will make himself still more solid with the crowd if given a chance. Chance of the Chicago Cubs leads the National League in hitting, with 392.
